Independent auditor's report to the shareholders of Oman Cables Industry SAOG and its Subsidiary

Report on the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Oman Cables SAOG (the "Company"), and its subsidiaries (the "Group") which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2016, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements set out in pages 7 to 54, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2016, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the consolidated financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements in Sultanate of Oman, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matters
Inventory valuation As disclosed in note 10 of the consolidated financial statements inventory of RO 28,683,750 is carried at lower of cost or net realizable value. We focused on this area because assessing net realizable value of inventory is an area of significant judgement, in particular with regards to the estimation of provisions for slow-moving and obsolete inventory as described in critical accounting estimates and judgements in note 4.	We obtained assurance over the appropriateness of management's assumptions applied in calculating the net realizable value and allowance for slow moving and obsolete inventory by: • Evaluating the design and implementation and operating effectiveness of key inventory controls; • Assessing physical condition of inventory while attending the inventory count; • Assessing the ageing of inventories, inventory levels, consumption patterns and net realisable value to identify whether the inventory requires a write down. • Considering write down of inventories to net realisable value, by comparing current estimated selling price obtained through a review of future market conditions, trends and selling price to the cost of inventories. • Reviewing the historical accuracy of inventory allowance and the level of inventory write-offs over the years. • Determining an independent expectation of slow moving and obsolete inventory using relevant data and assumptions.

Allowance for doubtful debts As disclosed in note 11 of the consolidated financial statements the Group's trade receivables amounts to RO 63,642,233 which are stated at amortized cost less an allowance for doubtful debts. We focused on this area because the allowance for doubtful debts against trade receivables requires the application of judgement and use of subjective assumptions by management as described in critical accounting estimates and judgements in note 4.	We obtained assurance over the appropriateness of management's assumptions and methods applied in calculating the allowance for doubtful debts by: • Evaluating the design and implementation and operating effectiveness of key controls; • Testing the underlying data used to determine the allowance • Reviewing the historical payments pattern for major balances, checking collections subsequent to reporting date and also considering correspondence with the respective customers with overdue balances. • Reviewing the historical accuracy of the allowance and the level of write-offs over the years. • Determining an independent expectation of allowance for doubtful debts using relevant data and assumptions.
Derivative instruments and hedge accounting Group enters into derivative financial instrument contracts to manage its exposure to commodity price risk. These contracts gave rise to derivative financial assets of RO 1,227,763 as at 31 December 2016 as disclosed in note 11. These contracts are recorded at fair value and qualify for hedge accounting as disclosed in note 3 (accounting policies). Hedge accounting and the valuation of hedging instruments can involve management judgement and are subject to an inherent risk of error.	Our procedures include: • Assessing the overall process related to derivative instruments and hedge accounting including internal risk management policies and procedures; • Evaluation of the design and implementation of key controls over hedge activities; • Evaluating the appropriateness of management's hedge documentation and contracts; • Evaluating the year end fair valuation of derivatives; • Reviewing the assessment of hedge effectiveness; • Obtaining confirmation of year end derivative financial instruments from counterparties.

Other information

The Board of Directors (the Board) is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the Board of Directors Report, Management Discussion and Analysis Report and Corporate Governance Report, which we obtained prior to the date of this auditors' report. The other information does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance or conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Board of Directors for the consolidated financial statements

The Board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS and the relevant disclosure requirements of the Commercial Companies Law of 1974, as amended and the disclosure requirements issued by the Capital Market Authority, and for such internal control as the Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Board is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISA's, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risk, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than the one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omission, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidenced obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosure are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Board with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with the Board, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law and regulations preclude public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
